

Intravenous "IV" Nutrient Therapy

- IV administration of nutrients can achieve blood levels not obtainable with oral supplementation.
- IV therapy may be more effective than oral supplementation for correcting intracellular nutrient deficiencies.
- Absorption of nutrients in the gut varies and is affected by numerous factors.

IV Therapy Preparation

How to prepare for your IV and what to expect:

- Come having eaten a meal prior to the IV as the vitamin C can lower your blood sugar.
- Feel free to bring a water bottle or beverage of your choice to drink during the IV. If you have to use the restroom during your IV you may roll your IV pole to the restroom – just ask for help if you need anything.
- Feel free to bring a book, iPad or tablet to entertain yourself during the IV. Usually, the IVs take 45-120 minutes depending on the size of your vein and the concentration of nutrients in your IV.
